From the Desk of Dustin Hardison

At Harvesters, we hear regular feedback from agencies that you need more from us than just food. That is why we started our Healthy Program Partnerships.

The goal of a Healthy Program Partnership is to help your guests choose healthier food options. Our nutrition team works with you on various nutrition education projects including pantry setup, environmental cues, training, and more. Working with you, we can support your work as you pursue ways to make the healthy choice the easy choice at your agency.

Previous projects include helping agencies transition to a client choice model, re-arranging the pantry to feature healthy items, hanging signs to educate about food safety and nutrition, recipe demonstrations, client satisfaction surveys, educating through classes, and providing recipes and food prep tip sheets.

If you’re interested in the Healthy Program Partnership, contact our Nutrition Education team at nutrition@harvesters.org.
